There is considerable rental potential due to its spaciousness, large terraces and not least the location directly on the beach and the fantastic view along the entire beach. Such premium apartments rarely come on the market, this one has not been on the market for 10 years. Most penthouse apartments on the beach only have a view straight ahead over the sea. This is right in the bend at the end of the beach and you therefore have a view all along the beach, and can also see all the lights at night.

The apartment is sold fully furnished and ready to move into. There is no separate parking for the apartment, but there are good parking options in the area.
