season.

The lower level is dedicated to rest and quiet, with two bedrooms set apart from the living spaces above. The main bedroom feels calm and inviting, supported by two full bathrooms positioned between the rooms for ease and privacy. The second bedroom offers notably generous space, making it well suited for guests leaving room to create a more generous private retreat. Both open directly to a sheltered garden with flowering shrubs and a tidy lawn, where the sea can be seen through the trees.

The location offers a rare natural setting: moments from the first beach on Marbella's eastern coastline and bordered by the protected Artola Dunes, a landscape that moves from rippled sand to aromatic pine forest and ancient fossil formations. Cabopino Marina sits close by with its small boats, inviting cafés and relaxed dining terraces, while La Cala de Mijas lies just along the coast with a lively promenade and year-round amenities. This Cabopino setting combines natural beauty with convenient access to neighbouring coastal towns.

With the beach five minutes from the door, Marbella fifteen minutes by car and Malaga Airport within easy reach, this townhouse offers an appealing mix of tranquillity, convenience, and strong long-term value, whether for holidays, investment, or year-round living by the sea.
