In an English Country Garden, in a beautiful Country House you think of beautiful flowers like hydrangea, foxglove, sea pea, roses, and well kept lawns, but, here in Spain we are going to present the Spanish version and it is normally called a Finca or Cortijo , full of vibrant buganvilla, oleanders, hibiscus, jacarandas, night scented stock, jazmin so colourful and always with a clear blue sky.

This Country House has the beauty of everything as you are in the Countryside but only 10 mins drive down to the Coast, 10 mins either way to the centre of Fuengirola or La Cala de Mijas and less then 30 mins to the centre of Marbella or Malaga Airport.

This Cortijo has the authentic Andalucian style, painted white with terracota roof tiles. The electric gates open to the drive way with it's white pebble stones and you will find plenty of space for parking. Enter into the house through to the big wooden front door which I believe was recovered from an Old Hotel in Malaga. Step through this beautiful door to the hallway again terracota coloured floors and high wooden beamed ceilings. From the entrance hall you can go upstairs to the masterbedroom, straight into the sitting /dining/ room , on the right hand side you have the kitchen and on the left a large bedroom ensuite , there is also a cloakroom here for guests to use. Upstairs you have one large bedroom, ensuite and with a terrace that has panoramic views over the garden and countryside and you can even see down to the sea.. Walk from the hall into the large sitting room with its big fireplace and this leads on the left to a room which you can use as a study, office, reading room or even a little t.v. room, to the right into a proper dining room that also again leads to your big family country kitchen. But back to the sitting room now for a minute and this leads out to a covered terrace and on to your well groomed lawn, ideal for a game of croquet followed by a pims by the pool. Those of you who are into gardening the lawn has Bermuda grass. To the left of the lawn you will find the relaxing pool and chillout area. On a lower level behind the pool you will find the secret vegetable garden.

Back into the house now again and from the Hall you can go straight through to the large big family kitchen
